CONCEPT NOTE

Gender inequality is an issue concerning different aspects of the society. Women are not given equal status and treatment as men everywhere. India is not an exception. In India, in different phases of history, with a few exceptions in the Vedic period; women have been assigned a position subordinate to men. In the north-eastern region of India, the social status of women is perceived to be higher. But the women are still suffering from gender discrimination in every aspect of life. The theme of the seminar intends to accommodate epistemological and ontological aspects of gender studies from participants coming from different streams of knowledge in a structured manner. This seminar will invite academic perspectives on the issues of gender and provide inputs to policy-makers whereby, they will be able to address the challenges faced by women in the society through enabling gender planning and legislation for the women of the North-East. Therefore, this theme will encourage the participants to look into new avenues of research, update their knowledge in this area and to find new questions. The Seminar Organizing Committee hopes for proper discussion and welcomes comments, views and academic suggestions on the main theme and sub-themes. Gender and environment bears close relationship. That is why the seminar shall be organised in an eco-friendly way.
